If you are being emotionally abused, threatened, physically or sexually assaulted by a partner, a former partner, or a family member, there is help available.

It doesn't have to be physical abuse; it can be emotional and verbal abuse or financial control.

The health and well-being of you and your children can be seriously affected by living in households where there is any form of abuse.

How can we help?

You

We can provide practical and emotional support as you decide about your future. We offer 1 to 1 sessions, group programmes and informal drop-in sessions.

Support can cover issues such as personal safety, legal and housing matters and we can put you in touch with other organisations that can also assist.

Your children

We can help your children to deal with the affects of witnessing or experiencing abuse through 1 to 1 and group support.
